

CONFERENCE

rethinking Enlightenment

Forgotten Women Writers of Eighteenth Century France

Martine Reid
Université de Lille

Vicki E. Mistacco
Wellesley College

Christie McDonald
Harvard University

Matthew Barfield
Harvard University

Caleb Shelburne
Harvard University

Henry Shreffler
Harvard University

The French Enlightenment is famous for its intellectual innovations, but it is remembered largely as a male endeavor. This conference delves deeper into the works of women who participated in the Enlightenment's intellectual and political transformations but were excluded from its history until recently.

Friday • March 23 • 2-5pm
Houghton Library • Harvard University

Co-sponsored by Houghton Library and the Department of Romance Languages & Literatures

